GRATITUDE FROM THE BOARD

The Board of the Center for the Opening and Development of Latin America (CADAL) thanks all those who made its work possible during 2016. Specially the individuals, companies and institutions whose donations allowed us to implement during 2016 our activities of analysis, research, dissemination, training, advocacy and international democratic solidarity. Also, our acknowledgement to the members of the Academic, Consultative and Business Councils for their support, participation and commitment in the promotion of democratic values, the international defense of human rights and the analysis of public policies that contribute to good governance and the wellbeing of people.

Tristán Rodríguez Loredo (Protreasurer), Sybil Rhodes (Vice-President), Gabriel Salvia (Chairman), María Reviriego (Treasurer) and Bernabé García Hamilton (Secretary).

CONTRIBUTORS

Besides our permanent staff that includes Gabriel Salvia, General Director; Hernán Alberro, Programs Director; Marisa Di Vitto, Director of Administration and Finance; and Sergio Casais, webmaster; CADAL also had the collaboration of Andrés Cañizalez as Adjunct Editor of the website Análisis Latino, Associated Researcher Juan Pablo Cardenal and interns Ludmila González Cerulli, Bernardo Pérez and Carolina Zaccato; the volunteers Eric Grosembacher, Matías Llohis, Facundo González Sembla, Trinidad Hunt and Ezequiel Podjarny; and foreign interns Alexandra Dumitrascu (Romania), Diana Arévalo (Colombia), Janet Addoh (Ghana), Dorra Refaif (Morocco), Alexis Silvestre (United States) and Matthias Peschke (Germany).

“Doing my internship at CADAL was a real fortune: during those two months I learned a lot about the human rights situation, but also about the Latin American political context. Always fascinating, the events organized by CADAL are a change to open a window on the Latin American continent and to have a better understanding of the importance of cherishing and promoting human rights”.

Dorra Refaif (Morocco)
